Oak Flooring Blanks

Lovely sawn square edge boards used for bespoke floors, decking, cladding, door & furniture making. Buy off the shelf from stock as sawn boards - great if you're making an authentic period floor - or order with bespoke machining to your requirements.

Both character and prime blanks are 27mm thick and finish at approx 20mm thick after machining, widths will finish approx 20 mm less than sawn width after machining. The prices below are for the sawn boards(blanks). Lots of machining options are available. Call us with your queries and questions on 01730 816941

Engineered Flooring

This is a 6mm layer of solid timber laid onto a sheet of Birch ply for stability. It is unfinished (without oil or varnish), tongued and grooved on all four sides and can be made with or without a microbevel - it's up to you!

We offer a huge range of unfinished Oak options in the engineered floors but if you'd like something different call and tell us, we'll find you something different! There is a wide range of species with varying colourings and grain patterns and boards sizes available. Whether you want a characterful look with grain patterns and knots or a super smart, clean look with straight grain and even colouring we can supply the right floor for you and we'll do it with long lengths and wide widths too!

Our engineered flooring is made not far from us in Hampshire and is machined to order just for you so lead times are 10-14 days. It comes unfinished (without oil or varnish), with a microbevel on the edges (unless a square shoulder is requested) and with knots filled or unfilled as required. 95% of the lengths 2.4m.
